Census Estimates 38,000 Jobs for North Carolina

Raleigh—Gov. Bev Perdue today announced that the U.S. Census Bureau is now targeting 37,789 positions through September for temporary jobs in North Carolina. After a first wave of hires that began in January, the Census Bureau has begun hiring for a secondary phase.

“Census jobs are a great opportunity for thousands of North Carolinians who are looking for work,” said Gov. Perdue. “At the same time, these workers will help our state achieve a complete count of our population and access the more than $400 billion in federal funds to be distributed each year based on the census count.”

The chart below indicates the estimated number of positions by Local Census Office (LCO) from October 2009 through September 2010:
